SIX DEGREES OF SEPARATION IN STAR WARS

A VISUALIZATION OF ANAKIN AND HIS CONNECTIONS THROUGH THE GALAXY

A long time ago in a galaxy far, far away...

There lived a certain Anakin
Skywalker, and through his exploits and travels, he's gotten to know a wide variety of people in the galaxy.
These people, of course, have connections of their own, leaving a wide, sprawling network.

Though the galaxy is vast, this makes an attempt to show how small and connected it can be at times as well, revealing the six degrees of separation between characters in the universe, and connections Anakin possesses through the galaxy, no matter how unlikely they may have seemed.

LEGEND

Bold text depicts characters that are present in the movies.

Non-bold text is used for characters that do not show up in the movies.

Red text represents characters viewed as villains.

Blue text represents characters viewed as heroes.

Black text represents neutral or unaligned characters.

A thick line represents a bond of family.

A thin, solid line represents a bond of friendship.

A thin, dashed line represents a

A thin, dashed line represents a business relationship.

A solid arrow shows chain of command, with the arrow pointing to the commander.

A dotted arrow represents ownership, with the arrow pointing to the owner of the other.